GUIDE TO A GAME CHANGERS LIFE

So you're ready to be a game changer? That is good. I am happy you are here. You are here for a reason. You are here because you believe that you can change the landscape and do something incredible. You are here because God has placed something on your heart that is causing you to want something beyond status quo.

We need more people like you.

I think you would agree with me that there just isn't enough game changers in the world today. Why? They're afraid. Afraid of what? Stepping outside their comfortable tent and into a world where things are a insane and unsure. This is the perfect time because when most people are in their tents with the blanket over their heads, you're going to be out there changing the game.

Everyone has a game changer inside of them, they just need to activate it. I have put together this guide to help you activate your game changer and get out there and do something.

Being a game changer is actually simple. It just takes a little determination, insanity, and faith that you can do anything that you put your mind to.

This guide is for those of you who are serious about being a game changer. If you're not serious, shut down this document and crawl back into your tent and come back when you're ready. Thank you.

1. Are you doing more than what you're told to do?

Make a list of at least 3 things you are willing to do each day that are outside of what you're told to do.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

2. Are you trying new things?

Write down a minimum of 3 new things that you're going to try each month. Think adventures, discoveries, and challenges. Maybe it's a crazy food, a trip, skydiving...

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

3. Are you teaching others about what you know?

Make a list of 3 people that you can schedule a time with each month to sit down with and pass on what you know and what you've learned.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

4. Are you passing on your knowledge and creating a legacy?

How are you passing on your knowledge and legacy? Write down a minimum of 3 things you can do each month to pass on your knowledge and start creating a legacy for yourself.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

5. Are you taking breaks to breathe?

Taking time to breathe is important. It allows you to slow your mind down, process thoughts, and make better decisions. Put together a plan for how you can start taking breaks to breathe each day.

---

---

---

---

---

---

6. Are you giving it up to God?

How are you giving it up to God? Make a list of 3 things you can do daily to give it up to God.

---

---

---

---

---

---

7. Are you meditating?

Meditation is powerful if you build it into your daily and weekly schedule. Where can you cut out time to mediate? Maybe in the morning, at night, lunch time? Write down a plan for meditating.

---

---

---

---

---

---

8. Are you working when others are resting?

When others are resting are you energized and working. How are you staying energized and working while others are worn out and sleeping. Write down at least 3 things that you are doing daily.

---

---

---

---

---

---

9. Are you giving back?

What are 3 ways you can give back each month? And this is not just money it is more about your time.

---

---

---

---

---

---

10. Are you always creating?

What are you creating daily? Write down 3 things you can create daily.

---

---

---

---

---

---

11. Are you making your own inspiration?

What are you doing to keep yourself inspired? Write down at least 3 things you're doing daily to make your own inspiration.

---

---

---

---

---

---

12. Are you loving what you do everyday?

Loving what you do everyday is probably the most important part of being a game changer and if you hate what your doing you need to move on. Make a list of 5 reasons why you love what you do everyday. If you can't come up with at least 5, it's time to move on and do something different.
